Why Guangzhou

As a key hub on the Maritime Silk Road, Guangzhou has long been recognized as the "Southern Gateway" of China's foreign trade, bringing together commercial resources from over 100 countries and regions. The city has 6,159 medical institutions, including 298 hospitals, making it a vital center for healthcare and medical innovation. Meanwhile, the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area (GBA) - one of China's most open and economically dynamic regions is rapidly evolving into a leading global technology and innovation hub. By hosting the 92nd CMEF in Guangzhou, the event aims to leverage the region's strategic location and industrial strength to establish a world-class medical technology platform connecting global markets and driving growth across the Asia-Pacific.

What to Expect at the 92nd CMEF

Spanning nearly 200,000 square meters, the 92nd CMEF will feature 22 themed exhibition zones, covering medical imaging, in vitro diagnostics, surgical robotics, smart healthcare, and more. The event will offer a comprehensive industry ecosystem and spotlight key industry trends such as intelligent technology applications, localization of core components, global expansion strategies, innovations in niche markets, and solutions addressing the aging population.

A Truly International Platform

Leveraging the Greater Bay Area's dual strengths as the "World's Factory" and a global trade hub, the 92nd CMEF will once again host a dedicated International Pavilion. More than 20 countries, including the United States, Singapore, Malaysia, South Korea, Japan, India, Pakistan, Germany, Thailand, and Russia, are expected to showcase their latest medical innovations.

Distribution Map of China Import and Export Fair Complex

In addition, the event will feature nearly 70 high-level conferences and forums, covering cutting-edge topics such as AI in healthcare, smart hospitals, medical robotics, digital transformation, and regulatory compliance. Global industry leaders, top experts, and corporate executives will gather to share insights, explore trends, and shape the future of healthcare.

With its unparalleled scale, global reach, and industry focus, the 92nd CMEF is set to be a premier platform for business networking, technological exchange, and market expansion in the medical and healthcare sector.

China International Medical Equipment Fair (CMEF) is the world leading platform that provides a comprehensive display of technological advancements and solutions from across the entire medical industry chain. As a global platform for trade cooperation, CMEF enables technological exchanges, fostering cross-border trade, and supports multilateral collaborations in diverse sectors.

Visitor Analytics

Visitors by position

The Animal Health China (AHC) was initiated by CMEF in 2022. By working with experts in the pet medical care industry, AHC aims to promote the development of new medical equipment, construction of specialty systems, continuing education for pet physicians, and branding of pet clinics.

With the booming economy and rising incomes as well as changes in population structure and pet owner's perception, the pet industry in China is entering an unprecedented golden age. This market in China is ready to see an unparalleled explosive growth with the next 5 to 10 years, a great opportunity for the industry. Pet medical care in China will be a trillion-dollar market, and it is critical for pet medical enterprises seize the opportunity and realize diversified development.

VISITOR PROFILE

Emergency, Rescue & Safe China was introduced by CMEF in 2022 as a response to the call of the times and the emergency and rescue market. The platform showcases new products in the emergency and rescue industry, shares industry insights from experts, association leaders, and media professionals, sets trends with evaluations across ten categories.

As 5G+, Internet of Things, AI, and other cutting-edge technologies continue to be widely adopted and supported by national policies, the concepts of smart cities and intelligent emergency response have been redefined. This shift has attracted significant capital investment towards emergency response industries, creating a range of promising opportunities.
